Issued to: [insert name]

Engagement Schedule no.: [insert] · Date of issue: [insert date]

This confirms the assignment you have been placed into and the practical detail you need before your first day. It sits alongside your Engagement Schedule and does not vary it.

Where this document and your Engagement Schedule differ on any term, the Engagement Schedule prevails. Rates are recorded there and are deliberately not repeated here, because this document is often shared with a client contact for logistics.

The engagement

Client	[insert]
Role title	[insert]
Engaging entity	Your company name and ABN, or Vantage Meridian as employer
Work location	[insert]
On-site requirement	Days per week on site, and any approved flexibility

Who you report to

You take day-to-day direction from the client and delivery oversight from Vantage Meridian. The two are different and it matters that you know which is which, because scope, rate, term and conduct questions come to Vantage Meridian and not to the client.

Before you start

Your commencement is conditional on the items below being complete. Tick the ones that apply to this assignment and treat anything unticked as still outstanding.

IF A CONDITION WILL NOT CLEAR IN TIME

Tell Sky as soon as you know, not on the morning of the start date. A start date can usually be moved with the client if there is notice. A no-show on day one cannot be recovered and it damages the next tender as much as this one.

Your first day

Report to	Name, role and where to meet them
Address and access	[insert]
Start time on day one	[insert]
Bring with you	Photo identification, and any documents the client has asked for

Equipment	Client-supplied or your own, and any bring-your-own-device conditions
Parking and access notes	[insert]
Dress standard	[insert]

The first fortnight

Vantage Meridian checks in at the end of your first week and again at the end of the first month. These are short calls and their purpose is to catch scope drift, access problems and reporting-line confusion while they are still small. Raise anything that feels off in those calls, or before them if it will not keep.

Timesheets start in week one. Submit weekly for client approval by 5.00pm Friday even if the week is short, because an unapproved week delays the whole month's payment rather than just that week. The Timesheet and Invoicing Guide covers the mechanics.
