Return this before your first day on site. It records that the obligations attaching to your placement have been explained to you and that you understand them.

Nothing here is new. Each item already binds you under your contract, and the point of the form is that Vantage Meridian can show a client, on request, that its people were briefed rather than assumed to know. Read each item, tick it, and raise anything you are unsure about before you sign rather than afterwards.

1. What you confirm

ITEM	READ AND UNDERSTOOD
The contractor guide. You have read Contracting at Vantage Meridian and understand how the engagement, the pay cycle and the network operate.	☐
Your contract. You have read your Independent Contractor Agreement or employment contract and the Engagement Schedule for this assignment, and you hold a signed copy.	☐
Client policies. You will obtain, read and comply with the client's policies, code of conduct and security requirements, and complete every induction the client requires.	☐
Work health and safety. You will take reasonable care for your own safety and that of others, follow the client's safety requirements and report incidents, hazards and near misses to the client and to Vantage Meridian the same day.	☐
Confidentiality. You will treat everything you see and produce as confidential, and client material stays on client systems unless the client has given written approval for it to move.	☐
Intellectual property. Work product you create on the engagement vests as your contract provides, and you will not bring third-party material onto the engagement without the right to use it.	☐
Rate confidentiality. Your rate or salary is confidential between you and Vantage Meridian. You will not discuss it with client staff or with other contractors on site.	☐
Public comment. You will not post or speak publicly about the client or the engagement, including on social media, without written approval.	☐

ITEM	READ AND UNDERSTOOD
Conflicts of interest. You will declare any actual, potential or perceived conflict to Vantage Meridian as soon as you become aware of it.	☐
Escalation. Delivery friction, scope trouble or anything that feels off goes to Sky first, before it becomes an issue on site.	☐
Direction and oversight. The client directs your day-to-day work. Scope, rate, term, conduct and contract questions go to Vantage Meridian.	☐

TWO THAT CATCH PEOPLE OUT

Client material on a personal device is the most common breach on a government engagement, and it is usually accidental – a document emailed home to finish something after hours. Use the client's systems and no others. The second is public comment, where a routine post naming a client on LinkedIn can breach the head contract even when it is complimentary.

2. Client inductions completed

Record every induction the client requires, with the date you completed it. Leave a row blank where an induction is scheduled but not yet done, and update it before your start date.

INDUCTION OR MODULE	COMPLETED ON	EVIDENCE HELD

3. Site and safety detail

Site address
Client safety contact
Incident reporting method	How the client wants incidents and hazards reported
Medical conditions relevant to site safety	Disclose only what a first responder would need to know. Optional.
Emergency contact	As recorded on your New Starter Details Form

4. Acknowledgement

By signing below you confirm that the items in section 1 have been explained to you, that you understand them and that you will comply with them for the duration of the engagement. You acknowledge that this form records a briefing and does not vary your contract, and that where this form and your contract differ, the contract prevails.
