

Onboarding checklist

Your placement is confirmed. This checklist is the short pack referred to in Contracting at Vantage Meridian and it lists everything you need to return before you start on site.

Vantage Meridian cannot confirm a start date until the items below are complete, because most client engagements make commencement conditional on identity, right to work and background checks clearing. Return everything within three business days of receiving this pack and there is normally time in hand. Anything you cannot complete in that window, tell Sky early rather than at the deadline, so the client can be managed rather than surprised.

What you return

Two columns matter here. The first tells you what the item is, the second tells you whether it applies to you, which depends on whether you contract through your own company or join as an employee of Vantage Meridian.

ITEM	APPLIES TO	DUE
New Starter Details Form	Everyone	Within 3 business days
Background Check and Right to Work Consent Form	Everyone	Within 3 business days
Induction Acknowledgement	Everyone	Before first day on site
Signed Independent Contractor Agreement, Engagement Schedule and Key Person Undertaking	Own company	Before start date
Signed employment contract and Engagement Schedule	Employee	Before start date
Certificates of currency for professional indemnity, public liability and workers' compensation	Own company	Before first day on site
Tax file number declaration and superannuation standard choice form	Employee	Before first pay run
Evidence of right to work, being passport, visa or citizenship documents	Everyone	Within 3 business days

ITEM	APPLIES TO	DUE
National police check, either a copy issued in the last 12 months or consent for a new one	Everyone	Client dependent
Evidence of qualifications, licences and registrations you declared	Everyone	On request
Two referees, preferably direct reporting managers	Everyone	Within 3 business days

WHERE FORMS ARE CONCERNED

The New Starter Details Form and the Background Check and Right to Work Consent Form ask for things you may have already given Vantage Meridian at submission stage. That repetition is deliberate. The Required Information Form supported a submission that had not yet been won; these two establish the payment and compliance record for a live engagement, and both are relied on by the client.

What Vantage Meridian sends you

The pack runs in both directions. Alongside this checklist you receive the following, and if any of it has not arrived within two business days of your signed contract, chase it.

- Assignment Confirmation recording the client, role, location, start date, hours, reporting line and the conditions that must clear before you begin.
- Timesheet and Invoicing Guide covering weekly timesheets, tax invoice requirements and the monthly payment cycle.
- Contractor Payment Schedule for the current financial year, with every invoice deadline and pay date.
- Access to the timesheet system nominated for your assignment, issued once your contract is signed.
- Client induction details, including any online modules or site inductions you must complete before or on your first day.

Conditions that can move your start date

Three things commonly delay a commencement and all three are avoidable. Client background and probity screening is the most frequent, particularly on government work, where a check can take two to four weeks and cannot be rushed from this end. Insurance is the second, because a certificate of currency has to be current on the day you start and not merely applied for. The third is the contract itself, where an unsigned Engagement Schedule leaves the placement without a term, a rate or a notice period, and the client will not accept you on site without one.

If a start date slips for any of these reasons, Vantage Meridian tells you and the client the same day. Nothing is held back to see whether it resolves itself.

Questions

Everything in this pack goes to one person. There is no shared inbox, no account manager and no onboarding team, which is the point of the model.
